CONCERN VOICED OVER PROPOSED £3.5m CEMETERY

£4million hospice revamp unveiled

TV news presenter Alastair Stewart helped three-year-old Mikey Strachan cut the ribbon marking the end of a 19-month refurbishment of a children's hospice near Basingstoke.

The £4million revamp included fitting hoists throughout, piping oxygen in every room, and building a state-of-the-art sensory room.

Approval suggested for farmland scheme

CONTROVERSIAL plans to build a £3.5million cemetery for Basingstoke on farmland in North Waltham could be given planning permission tonight.

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@observergroup.co.uk

A report by council officers published last week recommends the plan for approval despite safety concerns about corteges using the same road as ambulances from a planned hospital nearby.

Councillors on Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's planning control committee are to decide on the proposal to turn fields next to Basingstoke Crematorium into burial land and to build a chapel.

The council has put forward the plan as the town's Worting Road Cemetery is expected to be full within five years.

However, the plans have come under fire for the site being too difficult for residents to visit their loved ones' graves.

Councillor Paul Harvey said: "We have been concerned about the remoteness of the site and those issues have not been resolved. People in the town need to be able to get to the cemetery to pay respects to their loved ones.

"The recommendation for approval looks purely at planning reasons but we will be talking about the wider picture."

The 16-acre site is more than seven miles from Basingstoke town centre and lies north of the A30. Within the three objections lodged with the council, residents raised concerns about how the cemetery would work alongside a planned £160million hospital at North Waltham.

The hospital, proposed by the Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, would also lie north of the A30.

Council urged to support refugees

A BASINGSTOKE resident is asking the borough council to play its part in the ongoing refugee crisis by agreeing to house some of the families affected.

By Adam Flinn
adam@observergroup.co.uk

Graham Price, 34, of Irvine Crescent, wrote to council leader Clive Sanders last Thursday asking the council to use buildings such as village halls and sports halls as temporary shelters.

The letter added that he believes the people and businesses of Basingstoke and Deane would do more to help with some organisation by the council.

"I think we've got resources and people who want to help and are willing to help, and we could do a lot more," said Graham.

"I've been trying to what I can previously, but it was the photo of that little boy on the beach that hit home – I've got a son that's a similar age, and it gets you.

"If we can get more people and councils as well across the country to say that they're able and willing to help, that might put more pressure on and we might be able to help more people."

More than four million refugees have been displaced through conflicts in places such as Syria and Iraq, with many fleeing to neighbouring countries and into Europe.

Prime Minister David Cameron announced on Monday that the UK would take in 20,000 more Syrian refugees over the next five years.

Chancellor George Osborne also confirmed over the weekend that money from the UK's international aid budget would be given to councils to house them.

Terri Reid, deputy leader of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, said: "The tragic scenes of the refugee crisis witnessed last week have affected many people across the country.

"Of course there are calls for action to be taken in light of this.

"Once we are clearer on what is proposed by government, we will evaluate what role we and our partners can play to enable a coordinated response, should we be required to."

Traffic jam attack may have been filmed

POLICE believe an attack in standstill traffic on the motorway near Basingstoke was filmed by another driver stuck in the jam.

A white BMW flashed and beeped at a Ford Transit van in heavy traffic on the inside lane of the M3 southbound – between junction seven and six.

The van moved into the middle lane to let the BMW past.

When traffic came to a standstill the people in the BMW got out and were joined on the road by people from a silver VW Golf.

The group smashed the windscreen and passenger window of the van and attacked the 26- and 28-year-old men inside, leaving them with minor injuries.

When the traffic started moving the group left and drove off.

Police believe a driver in a vehicle from the Czech Republic filmed the assault at about 2pm on Saturday, August 22, on his mobile phone. They issued an appeal on Monday for the driver to come forward.

Three of the men were described as Asian with English accents.

The first, in the BMW, was in his mid-30s, about 6ft 1in tall, wearing a pink t-shirt, blue jeans, glasses, with short hair.

The second, also in the BMW, was in his late 20s or early 30s, about 5ft 8 ins tall, wearing a vest, and had long frizzy hair.

The third, in the VW, was in his 60s, wearing grey clothing and a grey hat, with a bushy beard.

Police search

BASINGSTOKE: A teenager and two men were attacked behind Basingstoke's train station on Monday.

Police released a photo of a man they are searching for after the assaults at about 4.30pm.

A 38-year-old man saw a teenage boy being attacked by a man who then walked away.

The man followed the attacker who knocked him to the floor.

When another man, 31, stepped in to help the victim, he was also assaulted before the offender left.

Both men received minor injuries, but the teenager has not come forward to police.

Police Constable Kerry Lawrence, said: "We're keen to speak to the teenager who was assaulted."

The man police want to speak to is described as white, slim, around his mid-30s, and unshaven with short spiked brown hair.

He was wearing a red checked shirt, blue jeans, with a black belt with a silver buckle and black shoes.

Bid for burpees world record to aid charities

A FITNESS instructor is aiming to power into the Guinness World Record books with the ultimate burpee boot camp at Basingstoke Town FC's Camrose stadium.

Steve Dennis, 38, is hoping to gather 400 people to break the record for the greatest number of people doing burpees at the same time in the same place at The Camrose on October 18.

The South Ham dad-of-two said: "Bring it on. We know there are about 171,000 in Basingstoke and Deane, so if we can't get 400... well, we will.

"I'm really excited, I can't wait."

The full body exercise involves squatting, putting your hands on the ground, kicking your feet out to press-up position and back in to a squat, before jumping up.

Mr Dennis, who runs Fitness Flex, came up with the idea but Basingstoke boot camp friends Sally Goodenough and Nicola Akers volunteered to organise the record attempt.

Mrs Goodenough, 39, from Kempshott, said: "We do hundreds of burpees every week and we are all practising so we are not shown up.

"They're one of those things that however fit you become, they never get easy. But we have only got to do them for two minutes at the record attempt so that's fairly easy."

And those willing to take part in the fitness fad will also be doing their bit for charity.

The world record attempt will be the focus of a charity fundraising family day with a bouncy castle and face painting from midday until 5pm.

Money raised will go to St Michael's Hospice in Basingstoke, and US-based international charity Sudden Unexpected Death in Childhood.

Residents fear clash with new £160m hospital

• From front page

It would be near junction 7 of the M3, about 2.4 miles away from the cemetery site.

One of the residents raised fears about potential conflict between slow-moving corteges and ambulances on 999 call-outs.

If approved, the council would need to buy the land from a local landowner. A council report says land closer to the town centre was considered but would be more expensive because of competition from developers.

It concludes: "This countryside location is not considered sustainable in terms of access to public transport and that the proposal will bring a change to the appearance of an agricultural field, whilst also taking this field out of arable production. However, the proposal is seeking to meet an essential, but also a sensitive community need which weighs in favour of a siting in a more tranquil environment."

A decision on the hospital plans was also due at tonight's meeting but has been delayed until October or November.

The meeting at the council's London Road offices starts at 6.30pm. For an update, see observergroup.co.uk or see next week's Basingstoke Observer.

POPLEY: A man who woke up to find burglars raiding his bedroom in Popley was attacked and knocked unconscious as he tried to confront them.

The victim was treated for minor head injuries in hospital after discovering the two men in his Falkland Road home on Friday, August 28.

One of the offenders is described as blond and stocky, and was wearing a dark top and blue jeans.

Police believe the burglars fled towards Carpenters Down.

Pub flats move

SOUTH HAM: Plans to turn a former pub into flats were submitted to Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council last week.

The Hammer and Tongs, in Old Worting Road, had been given planning permission to open as a shop.

But a planning application was filed by Southampton-based Concept Design and Planning to convert the building into four two-bedroom flats and two one-bedroom flats.

A target decision date has been set as October 27.

Thatched roof fire

TADLEY: About 50 firefighters battled a blaze which ignited the roof of a thatched cottage in Baughurst for almost 12 hours on Sunday.

They worked overnight at the home in Haughurst Hill to quash the flames with four water jets until 8.30am on Monday, after receiving a 999 call at 9pm.

Maria Miller opposes bill for assisted dying

BASINGSTOKE MP Maria Miller has spoken out against a bill aiming to legalise assisted dying, ahead of a Parliamentary debate on Friday.

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@observergroup.co.uk

The Assisted Dying Bill would let doctors or relatives help terminally ill adults end their life if they choose to.

Mrs Miller will be among the House of Commons MPs discussing the bill at Westminster from 9.30am.

But on Monday she told the Observer that, while she would keep an open mind, she does not believe the law should be changed.

Mrs Miller said: "Based on the evidence I cannot see the need for a change in the law.

"Patients who are terminally ill are given incredible care and in Basingstoke we have an expert group of medical professionals offering support that is second to none.

"Currently people in the UK are protected from the suggestion that taking their own lives is a treatment choice."

Mrs Miller partly formed her verdict after an hour-long meeting on Friday at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital with a specialist on end of life care.

Hampshire hospital's clinical lead for end of life care, Dr Lara Alloway, said: "I chose to go into palliative care to care for people while they die, rather than sanctioning early death. And there is a risk to the patient-doctor relationship when that is a possibility to be offered.

"As the law stands, it protects vulnerable people who are at the end of their lives.

"People often think they will die in severe pain, but that is incredibly rare because there are very good treatments. There is a fear of that time just before death - people think it will be upsetting, but it is actually a very precious time for people and their families."

Calls for people to be able to choose to die in dignity have strengthened in recent years.

In some cases campaigners have travelled to clinics in Switzerland to end their lives, where it is legal.

The bill proposes only patients with six months left to live who are mentally capable should be able to choose.

Dr Alloway added: "We are very bad at knowing prognosis. It is not as clear as saying 'six months'.

"Throughout peoples lives they have a notion to self sacrifice, so people might feel like hastening death to avoid being a nuisance to their loved ones."

Mammoth cycle complete

A TADLEY cyclist has raised more than £2,000 for the Alzheimer's Society after completing an epic 245-mile ride from London to Brussels in just three days.

Kevin Mosley, 56, set out from London alongside 32 other riders last Thursday, stopping at Calais and Bruges on their way to the Belgian capital, which they reached on Saturday.

And it was because of his dad Raymond that Kevin decided to undertake the momentous challenge.

"My dad was diagnosed with Alzheimer's just under three years ago, and we had a bit of difficulty because mum passed away as well," said Kevin.

"My brother and myself are now his legal carers, and the Alzheimer's Society helped us through a particularly difficult time.

"So I just felt it was time, rather than keep going along to these things that the Alzheimer's Society provides for carers and patients, it was time to put some money back in as well.

"And it went better than expected! I went not knowing anybody, and came back with 32 friends, it's brilliant."

Kevin is hoping to reach the £3,000 by the time all the sponsorship come in.

To donate, go to justgiving.com/kevin-mosley55.

Mobile mini farm

HOOK: A mobile mini farm set up by a Hook farmer is to feature as a family attraction at next week's Royal County of Berkshire Show.

Miller's Ark gives children a chance to groom donkey foals, handle chicks and ducklings, stroke goats and tickle piglets.

It will form part of the family trail at the agricultural show, one of Britain's biggest and oldest with over 2,000 top animals competing at Newbury Showground next Saturday and Sunday, September 19 and 20.

Miller's Ark is the brainchild of Elizabeth Miller, who set up the offshoot of her farming business to give children the chance to pet animals.

MP's visit

BASINGSTOKE: North East Hampshire MP Ranil Jayawardena paid a visit to Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital on Tuesday, to discuss the government's future plans for NHS investment.

Mr Jayawardena (pictured) was given a tour of the hospital and met with the staff, as the government looks to bring the total additional NHS funding to £10billion by 2021.

He said: "I am proud that hospitals such as Basingstoke and North Hampshire are thriving."

*It is estimated that approximately 2% of people over the age of 40 will have Glaucoma.

*Statistics obtained from The International Glaucoma Association.

What is an OCT scan?

This practice has invested in the very latest OCT scanning technology.

An Optical Coherence Tomography (OCT) scan is a unique test which uses near-infrared light reflected off the retina to produce a high resolution 3-Dimensional scan of the retina and associated structures.

It is particularly useful in the assessment of patients with AMD, Diabetic Maculopathy, early detection of Glaucoma and the management of these diseases. The test is non invasive, quick and entirely painless.

Am I at risk of Glaucoma?

Are you over 40?
Do you have a family history of Glaucoma?
Are you short sighted?
Do you have diabetes?
Are you of African-Caribbean origin?

If the answer is yes to any of these questions, then you are at an increased risk and should definitely have your eyes tested regularly.*

Why has this practice invested in OCT?

We believe this advanced imagery allows us to detect and monitor early stages of diseases and as this examination is not available under the NHS, we make an additional charge for this scan. Please ask for further details.

£4m revamp unveiled at children's hospice

A £4MILLION redevelopment of Naomi House children's hospice was unveiled on Monday after 19 months of work.

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@observergroup.co.uk

More than 100 people celebrated a ribbon cutting ceremony at the hospice in Sutton Scotney, marking the launch of the state-of-the art facility.

Families will be able to start visiting from the end of this month once furniture, toys and gear have been moved in and care staff fully trained on the new equipment.

The hospice cares for children with life-threatening and limiting conditions and their families from across Basingstoke and Deane and the south of England.

Mikey Strachan, three, from near Portsmouth, helped veteran ITN newsreader Alastair Stewart cut a blue ribbon.

Mr Stewart, the charity's appeal patron, said: "We make precious time priceless. We make difficult times bearable. And heartbreak, well, we're there. Loving, flexible and sometimes just silent. But we are there."

He added: "Thank you for what you've all done. Thank you for allowing a magnificent crew to do a magnificent job for a magnificent group of our fellow human beings who are a little younger than we are and may not be here for as long as we are."

The new hospice building has hoists throughout, piped oxygen and suction in every room, wheelchair charging points, a heating system that can maintain precise temperatures in each room, and an array of sensory equipment for children with special needs.

A new 'butterfly' bereavement suite has been built for families.

New rooms for music therapy, arts and crafts, and messy play have also been built.

The hospice's 10 children's rooms have been made bigger, family space made larger and extra bathrooms added.

A new bridge also links Naomi House to an updated hydrotherapy pool in the neighbouring hospice for young people, Jacksplace.

Director of HR June Morton said: "Having such a wonderful place so close to home makes a world of difference to Basingstoke families caring for a life-limited child."

Mikey's mum, Chevonne Newlands, said: "The problem is going to be to get Mikey to come home, when he comes for his visits. He singled out the sensory room, that's where he'll be spending a lot of his time."

• A crowd of more than 100 families, staff and supporters marked the unveiling on Monday

Mikey's condition is undiagnosed, so he is still undergoing genetic testing. He was born tongue-tied with an abnormally large head, and developed feeding and breathing problems.

Sally Evans, 10, also stays at Naomi House for respite care and gave the revamp her seal of approval.

She said: "It's a lot more open, so you can actually move your arms and legs. If you move backwards, you won't hit a big pile of stuff."

Contractors are still working on finishing touches to the outside space –which will have two quiet areas, a roof garden, and a children's garden with water features and play equipment.

Naomi House first opened in 1997. While it was being revamped, children used temporary bedrooms at Jacksplace.

So far, £3.8m has been raised by more than 10,000 supporters as part of the hospice's fundraising campaign, called the Caterpillar Appeal.

Naomi House is hosting an open day and fete this Saturday, September 12, from 11am until 4pm.

Mobile snatched

BASINGSTOKE: A hooded man snatched a mobile from a woman's hand as she was talking on the phone and ran off past Worting Road cemetery.

The 29-year-old victim was pushing a shopping trolley in Worting Road over the blue bridge spanning the A340 Ringway West when the theft happened at about 10.30am on August 28.

The offender is described as white, 20 to 30 years old, about 5ft 6ins tall and of medium build. He was wearing a grey hoody with the hood up, blue jeans and blue trainers.

Ryan sees launch of mobile games

By Adam Flinn
adam@observergroup.co.uk

A YOUNG software developer from Basingstoke who has been working on two mobile games for the past few months has had them published.

Ryan Bourne, 17, of Brighton Hill, released the games 'Fruit Flight' and 'Asterun' on Monday on the Apple store.

He has been interested in game development since the age of eight, with these two being the first he has released on his own.

"Last year I was working for a games studio, and after that I decided to focus on a few smaller games of my own and get some feedback towards it.

"If I could do this for a living, that would be cool because I really enjoy it, but just staying in the same sort of industry of software development would be good."

Fruit Flight sees players take control of a pilot called Eric, who collects fruit falling down from the top of the screen to achieve a high score.

Asterun is a similar concept but space-themed, with the player guiding a spaceship through an asteroid field and shooting down UFOs along the way.

Ryan, who is studying computing, maths and geography at Queen Mary's College, added: "These ideas have just been ones that I've randomly had.

"I have got a group of beta testers who have been helping to narrow out some of the bugs we had before, and the general feedback has been that they're actually quite good.

"Currently I've got two new ideas lined up, both of which will be towards bigger games than these ones, so I'll be starting those soon."

To download the games, go to app2.it/fruitflight and app2.it/asterun.

Homes plan for pub car park backed for approval

PLANS to build three houses on a Whitchurch pub's car park have been recommended for approval by council officers.

Regional Inns has applied for planning permission to build one two-bedroom and two three-bedroom houses on the site at The Red House, in London Street.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's development control committee is due to discuss the plans at its meeting tonight.

A number of objections have been received regarding the plans, including that the development would not significantly contribute to local housing requirements and that it is not in keeping with surrounding buildings.

But 12 letters supporting the plans have also been put forward, saying Whitchurch is "desperate" for housing and the car park is "ugly".

The recommendation to approve the plans is based on the applicant and council agreeing funding for any necessary traffic plan changes.

A separate application to determine proposed internal changes to the pub itself and the demolition and replacement of a toilet block will also be considered.

Tonight's meeting is being held from 6.30pm at the council's offices in London Road, Basingstoke.

Dragons' Den theatre school opening in Newbury

After a successful appearance on BBC's Dragons' Den in January 2007, Razzamataz Theatre Schools have been opening all across the country and now it is the turn of Newbury.

When founder and director of Razzamataz Denise Hutton-Gosney appeared on the show, Duncan Bannatyne was quick to spot the huge potential of the part-time theatre schools business and offered the full investment. This has enabled the team to rapidly grow the company and turn Razzamataz into one of the top five part-time theatre schools in the UK, according to The Stage newspaper.

Since the Den, Hutton-Gosney and her dedicated team have been busy building up the Razzamataz brand. There are now almost 40 schools up and down the country and Debbi Ledwith, principal of Razzamataz in Newbury is delighted to bring Razzamataz's unique blend of performing arts to local children. "Nurturing young talent and building up a child's confidence and self-esteem is a big part of what we do at Razzamataz," said Debbi. "We teach the children a mix of commercial street dance and musical theatre so they get to experience the very best of what the performing arts has to offer." The classes consist of three hours of dance, drama and singing and the curriculum covers the whole of the performing arts, from classic West End musical theatre to commercial street dance and hip hop.

As well as classes run by a team of experienced teachers, Razzamataz also prides itself of being able to bring in top professionals in their field to work with their students to inspire them to be the very best they can be. Over the last few months, Razzamataz children up and down the country have enjoyed workshops led by Kylie Minogue's choreographer, Diversity and Zoo Nation, creators of Into the Hoods, the first hip hop musical in the West End and Razzamataz in Newbury is excited about the opportunity to offer local children the chance to work with artists with such credible industry experience.

"I am delighted to be bringing Razzamataz to Newbury. The whole team is passionate about what they do and the structure of the classes allow children to enjoy and learn about the whole spectrum of performing arts in a fun and stimulating environment. Razzamataz makes sure that it reflects the current trends that are accessible to children and teenagers so they never get bored."

As well as the obvious health benefits, participation in theatre arts has been shown to benefit children in many different areas as they acquire life and performance skills. Theatre trained individuals are identified as having transferable skills such as good interviewing technique – massively important for older children in the job market which additionally teaches self-discipline and the ability to work as a team.

Razzamataz in Newbury is launching on Saturday 12 September at Park House School, Andover Road, Newbury. RG14 6NQ. For a FREE trial session, simply call principal Debbi on 01635 905404 to secure your child's place.

About 90 residents reeled and spun to the music of English country band Pitchfork at Basingstoke's Royal British Legion base in Old Basing on August 15.

Safety boost bid

HAMPSHIRE: Nine motorcyclists were killed and 264 seriously injured across Hampshire and the Isle of Wight last year.

The figures were published on Thursday during a week-long Hampshire Constabulary campaign aiming to raise awareness of motorcycle safety.

Sgt Rob Heard, of the roads policing unit, said: "Further research has shown that commuter riders are injured between 4pm and 7pm, Mondays to Fridays, because they are not seen by cars pulling out from junctions or because those riders are not behaving responsibly."

Councillors submit bid for Greater Hampshire

By Katriona Ormiston

katriona@observergroup.co.uk

A BID was submitted to the government on Friday to create a Greater Hampshire with extra powers and responsibility seized from Downing Street.

Basingstoke and Deane is one of the 15 areas which would form the combined authority, which would be known as Greater Hampshire.

It would have control over certain budgets and grants and have the ability to design some strategies, for example, how health and social care would work.

The 38-page document was sent to Chancellor George Osborne and fellow ministers, outlining the draft plan for Greater Hampshire.

During a full Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council meeting on Tuesday, councillors unanimously decided to progress with the bid. However, many of them raised concerns about the plan, saying they might want to opt out at a later date.

Cllr Michael Westbrook said: "This whole process is moving so fast it would give the Jamaican relay team a run for its money.

"We seem to be in a race that local authorities up and down the country are still uncertain they want to be in."

He added: "The cynic in me wonders if the real reason of this rushed devolution offering is not solely a mechanism for more severe cuts to local government."

Cllr Paul Miller said: "This is a starter for 10 and I agree we need to continue to participate. The last thing we want is to be left in the cold."

Cllr Gavin James said: "We look like we are making a whole new authority to fix the mess Hampshire County Council has made."

• A map of the area which could become Greater Hampshire

Forming a combined Greater Hampshire:

- The idea is based on Greater Manchester, which became the first combined authority of its kind in 2009
- The idea of more devolution within regions of England became more popular during the Scottish referendum debate last year during which parts of England complained that the promise of Scotland getting extra powers was unfair
- Sheffield and Leeds city regions are also now a combined authority, while Cornwall, Derbyshire and Suffolk are at a similar stage to Hampshire, exploring if it could work for them
- A combined authority for 'Greater Hampshire' could cover Hampshire and the Isle of Wight
- It could include 15 local authorities including Basingstoke and Deane, Southampton, Portsmouth, two local enterprise partnerships, and two national parks

They are:

Hampshire County Council
Isle of Wight Council
Portsmouth City Council
Southampton City Council
Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council
East Hants District Council
Eastleigh Borough Council
Fareham Borough Council
Gosport Borough Council
Hart District Council
Havant Borough Council
New Forest District Council
Rushmoor Borough Council
Test Valley Borough Council
Winchester City Council
Enterprise M3 Local Enterprise Partnership
Solent Local Enterprise Partnership
New Forest National Park Authority
South Downs National Park Authority

Friday was the deadline for areas looking to become combined authorities to file their bid.

Greater Hampshire's document was submitted by Portsmouth City Council on behalf of all 15 authorities and two of Hampshire's local enterprise partnerships.

Ministers and civil servants will evaluate the bid and consider whether the Government would support it. If so, negotiations would begin on what powers and funding would be devolved to Greater Hampshire.

Council leader Clive Sanders said: "I am not going to underestimate the difficulties or try and claim we will succeed.

"A big negotiation process is in front of us before we actually arrive to something anyone will be asked to sign."

He added that he might not even vote himself for Basingstoke and Deane to sign up, but that it would be better to be at the negotiating table.

Examples of what Greater Hampshire could do, as put forward in the report, include creating one adoption agency for the area and delivering a cheaper public health service.

A deal could be announced as part of the government's spending review on September 25.

If so, the Greater Hampshire combined authority could come into force in April 2017.

The plan would first need to be passed by Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council in a full meeting before being adopted.

Marking 60th

SELBORNE: Residents, staff and trustees joined together to celebrate the 60th anniversary of The Wakes, in High Street, being opened as a museum.

Almost 100 visitors created a giant '60' in the grounds of the museum last week ahead of the anniversary on Saturday.

The house was first opened as a museum on September 6, 1955, by the Duke of Wellington, following an appeal to raise funds needed to buy the site and open it to the public.

Green week fun

BASINGSTOKE: Daffodil planting, swap shops and craft sessions are among more than 26 events to be held across Basingstoke and Deane during 'Green Week'.

The environmentally-friendly week runs from Saturday to Sunday, September 19 to 27.

Organised by environmental community group Basingstoke Transition Network, it will kick off with the Basingstoke Green Fair in Festival Place on Saturday, September 19, from 9am to 5pm.

Generations-old book proves inspiration for author's new volume

• Jenny Mallin

A KINGSCLERE author who came across a 170-year-old recipe book first started by her great-great-great-grandmother has written a book about the family's legacy.

Jenny Mallin discovered the volume in her mother's pantry as a child, with it having been passed down through the family for generations.

The first pages were written by Jenny's ancestor Wilhelma Hardy in India in 1844, with five generations adding their own recipes to the book as it was passed from mother to daughter.

And through what was written in the book, Jenny has uncovered a wealth of information about her family history and life in India during the days of British rule for her own publication, titled 'A Grandmother's Legacy'.

"I was fascinated by it every time I looked at it," said Jenny.

She continued: "The catalyst for the book was when my father died very suddenly of a heart attack, and I needed to find some sort of way of distracting my mum from her grief, and this was the perfect thing.

By Adam Flinn
adam@observergroup.co.uk

"The time I spent with my mother every day just reinforced the childhood memories I had of cooking with her as a child.

"And there was so much of the family history to write down from that I decided to put it in a book."

As part of her book launch, Jenny will be travelling to the five cities in India where her family lived – Madras, Pondicherry, Bangalore, Mumbai (Bombay) and Kolkata (Calcutta) – in November and December.

She is planning to follow in her grandmother's footsteps, visiting the church where Wilhelma and her great-great-great-grandfather Joseph married and the house where her mother grew up.

Jenny added: "I've been to India over 20 times, but this is a personal quest to follow in their footsteps in the cities where they used to live.

"I'm also trying to get a film crew interested – it could happen with an English film crew or an Indian film crew, so there's various things happening at the moment."

A definitive publication date for 'A Grandmother's Legacy' has not yet been revealed, but Jenny is hoping it will be before the end of the month.

For more information on the book, go to facebook.com/agrandmotherslegacy.

Tie-dye fun for children at nursery

YOUNGSTERS at a Basingstoke nursery turned fashion designers last Thursday when they got creative by making their own tie-dye shirts.

The children aged three and four at Kiddi Caru, in Broadmere Road, learned about the tie-dying process, the different colours they could use and the patterns they could create.

And with some help from nursery staff, they were able to make their own shirts to wear, modelling them afterwards in a mini fashion show.

Nursery manager Suzanne Chilvers said: "This is a great activity for children because it helps them to develop their creative skills.

"And at the end of the process, there's the surprise of seeing how well the colours and tie-dye effect have worked."

UK WATER SOFTENERS

Established 20 years

Hard water is something we are all used to in Hampshire, although most of us have got used to putting up with it, many do not realise that you can do something about it. It furs up our heating systems, causing breakdowns, makes it more expensive to heat our homes and damages our appliances.
The other problem with limescale is the constant cleaning of showerheads, shower screens, stainless steel sinks, the whole house can suffer where hard water is concerned. Limescale aggravates skin problems such as eczema and psoriasis.
With a water softener no limescale will get into the house, which means you will have to do less cleaning, stop buying limescale related products, cut washing powder use by up to 75% and have less chance of large bills for potential future problems with your heating system and appliance breakdowns. If you were to purchase an ordinary softener you would have quite a large machine, which requires you to set clocks and lug around a 25kg bag of salt. The TwinTec S3 is different. It is small, requires no electricity and uses block salt (like two house bricks) instead of heavy 25kg bags.
Harvey Softeners has been manufacturing softeners in this area for more than 35 years. Kevin Goody (UK Water Softeners) is one of Harveys top TwinTec dealers and was voted number two in the country last year.

Why is Kevin so successful?

He puts it down to extensive marketing and a great plumber with a wealth of experience having worked for the manufacturers for the last four years, good customer satisfaction and recommendations. Kevin has installed 4800 water softeners in homes in this area over the last twenty years and arranges everything from initial survey to installation.
Kevin Goody also welcomes trade enquiries.
We also service & repair Kinetico Water Softeners.

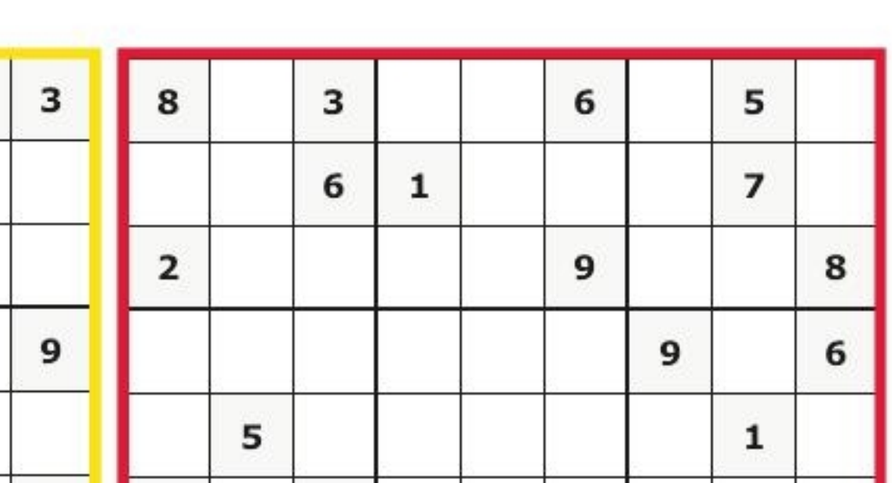
22 Act with me to construct a vault (4)



Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Treat awaits for Anvil audience

AN eight-piece ukulele band will be demonstrating their musical prowess when they visit The Anvil in Basingstoke on Thursday, September 17.

The Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain has been entertaining audiences across the world since 1985, which has seen its members clocking up a total of 16million minutes in playing time.

And with the group due to perform a mixture of original tunes and well-known covers at the Churchill Way venue next Thursday, ukulele player Will Grove-White believes the audience will be in for a treat. However, he refused to reveal what numbers they would perform on September 17.

"Audiences like to have a good time at our shows and I'm sure the crowd at Basingstoke will be terrific," he told the Observer.

"And it's always wonderful to play in England, especially given this year is our 30th anniversary. That's a lot of strumming.

"And I won't say what we are playing, as that would be telling!

"But you can expect a funny, virtuosic, foot-stomping obituary of rock 'n' roll and melodious light entertainment.

"It will feature only the 'bonsai guitar' and a menagerie of voices in a collision of post-punk performance and toe-tapping oldies."

By James Richings

As well as Grove-White, the orchestra consists of Dave Suich, Peter Brooke Turner, Hester Goodman, George Hinchliffe, Richie Williams, Kitty Lux and Jonty Banke,

Since its formation three decades ago, The Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain has been regarded as one of the world's leading ukulele groups, performing at many high-profile venues and events.

Its performances at the Royal Albert Hall, the Sydney Opera House, Glastonbury, the BBC Proms and on TV show 'Later... with Jools Holland' have put the eight musicians in music folklore with their unique playing style, witty humour and brilliant interpretations of well-known tracks.

And following the start of the group's current tour in Oxford at the start of the month, Will admitted he was surprised it was still active with an ever-growing fan base.

"I don't think any of us expected that it would have such a long life or that there would be a ukulele revival across the globe," he said.

"But I do know that it's always been a great fun band to listen to and be a part of, which counts for a lot, and it helps that we all get along well and are willing to put up with each other's eccentricities."

• The Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain (Will Grove-White, bottom centre)

He added: "When we started, if anyone had told me we were going to be playing at Carnegie Hall, the Royal Albert Hall and Sydney Opera House I'd have eaten my hat.

"Good job no-one did as I don't much like the taste of hats."

The show starts 7.45pm, and tickets cost £23.

Comic to get you laughing

COMEDIAN Carey Marx will kick off Jan Jack's Laughter-House's new season of comedy when he visits Basingstoke tomorrow evening, Thursday, September 10.

By James Richings

The funny man, who has won a host of awards and performed across the world, will be appearing at The Red Lion Hotel with fellow comics Tom Price, John Lynn and MC Phil Dinsdale.

Despite winning several accolades, including best international show at the New Zealand Comedy Festival in 2009 and 2011, the comic admitted that nerves sometimes got the better of him.

However, Carey revealed his secret of keeping them in check.

"I just pretend that the audience is naked," he told the Observer.

"Originally this advice was to deal with nerves but I still use it.

"I have a good imagination and have called the police on a few occasions to report a naked audience.

"I felt silly when the police told me they were dressed, but I don't see why I should trust a naked policeman."

Known for his use of dark comedy with mischievous wit within his material, Carey is no stranger to the British comedy circuit, having performed at 10 Edinburgh Festivals since 2003, as well as music festivals such as Reading, Leeds and Glastonbury.

But three years ago, things were not so funny for the eccentric comedian. In May 2012, Carey suffered a series of heart attacks, which nearly proved fatal and caused him to miss that year's Edinburgh Festival.

However, he has since made a full recovery and continued with his appearances at many different venues.

Carey added: "I'm already thinking about preparing a new show for next year's Edinburgh Festival and I also have a Radio 4 special coming up soon.

"With my new show, I think it's going to involve inappropriate ventriloquism."

Tickets for The Red Lion Hotel show cost £16.50. It starts at 8pm.

Car company's state-of-the-art Full Link system puts range of phone apps safely at the driver's fingertips

Seat closes gap in connectivity

SEAT is undertaking an ambitious plan to prioritise in-car connectivity across all its models by linking the gap between the smartphone and infotainment system, so that the driver is always connected.

By James Richings

Several new models such as the Alhambra, Leon MY16 and Toledo MY16 will be available with Full Link, which is Seat's state-of-the-art, three-in-one connectivity solution.

With Apple Car Play for the iPhone user and Android Auto or Mirror-Link for Android devices, the solution is a first in the global car market and not only removes fears about current and future compatibility, but also allows users to access many of their phone functions and apps while on the move.

• The Seat Ibiza's in-car connectivity

The new Ibiza, launched at the Barcelona Motor Show in May, is the first model to benefit from the advanced technology, which sees Seat take a giant leap forward in the race to eradicate compromise from connectivity.

With Full Link, designed in-house by Seat engineers, the full roster of smartphones running the latest iOS and Android software will connect without hassle.

The software puts the phone's features at the driver's fingertips.

Essential functions such as satellite navigation from certified apps and Google Maps can now be used safely via the car's touchscreen.

Apps,which have been classified as safe are being added regularly, and they include music service Spotify.

Temptation to use a handheld device is eradicated, as drivers will benefit from the system's read-out function, which delivers messages such as emails, tweets, Facebook posts, news and social media streams audibly, ensuring productivity during long journeys without compromising safety.

Drivers can also use its simple 'voice to reply' function as well as 'gesture control' which allows commuters to perform actions such as messaging or phone calls with a simple finger swipe across the car's infotainment screen, without taking eyes off the road.

Seat's head of fleet and business sales, Peter McDonald, said: "Seat is striving and achieving excellence in several areas that our customers consider to be vital."Full Link is a demonstration in how to seamlessly integrate, and take full advantage of, smartphone features, whether you're tech savvy or not.

"Any driver will undoubtedly benefit in terms of safety and minimising time lost, not to mention improved vehicle maintenance and driver behaviour."

No points for Collard after torrid Sunday

ROB Collard endured a miserable weekend at Rockingham in the British Touring Car Championship, as the Hook-based driver failed to pick up a single point.

By Adam Flinn
adam@observergroup.co.uk

A poor qualifying on Saturday set the tone for the weekend, as Collard could only get his BMW to 17th on the grid.

Race one didn't get any better for Collard – who has won three times so far this season – as he wasn't able to progress into the points positions and ended in 18th.

The second race was even worse, as while Collard was fighting his way back through the pack, he was taken out from behind and dropped back to 28th.

And his afternoon was compounded when his car spluttered to a halt on the parade lap of race three, to complete his first pointless weekend in two and a half years.

"This has been a weekend to forget for me," said Collard.

"We struggled to find the ultimate pace during qualifying, but the misfortune we faced on Sunday was just incredible."

Collard continued: "We hoped to work ourselves into a position to win race three and that would have been a real possibility with the way things were going in the second race.

"I was minding my own business but I was taken out unfortunately, which completely ruined the weekend."

But there was some success for Collard's stand-in team-mate, Odiham racer Nick Foster, as he earned four points on his return to the series.

Foster – who raced for West Surrey Racing for four seasons before retiring at the end of last year - had been drafted in to replace regular driver Andy Priaulx.

The first two races proved frustrating as Foster finished both in 16th place – one position outside of the points.

But race three saw Foster put in a strong drive to move up to 12th, and collect a handful of points for his efforts.

He said: "It was great to be back and the car was even better than when I last drove it at the end of last year.

"We felt we deserved points in the first two races but I just couldn't make that final move.

"Thankfully we were able to take the opportunity in the final race, which was a great reward for the team."

The next races take place at Silverstone on September 27.

• Rob Collard scored no points for his efforts on Sunday

Rose misses cut in Massachusetts

• Justin Rose

NORTH Hampshire golfer Justin Rose missed his first cut since May on Friday, after a disappointing showing at the Deutsche Bank Championship in Massachusetts.

Rose was one shot shy of progressing to the weekend as he finished on four over par.

The first round was solid if unspectacular, with an opening birdie quickly cancelled out by a bogey on the very next hole.

Two more bogeys and birdies followed as Rose completed the round in a level par 71.

But it was the second hole of round two where the damage was done, as Rose struggled on the par-five hole to card an eight.

Three more bogeys in the course of the round, combined with only two birdies, meant Rose finished four over par to miss his first cut since The Players Championship in early May.

American Rickie Fowler won the tournament on 15 under par, while the top British representative was Scotsman Russell Knox in tied 12th.

Flames doused as Bison run rampant in pre-season battle

BASINGSTOKE Bison made it three wins out of three in their short pre-season campaign after twice beating local rivals Guildford Flames at the weekend.

Bison went into the weekend's fixtures off the back of narrowly beating Milton Keynes Lightning 5-4 in their first friendly match last Wednesday.

Saturday's game saw nearly all the action come in the second period, as Shaun Thompson, JJ Pitchley, Aaron Connolly and Tomas Karpov all found the net to add to Alan Lack's effort in the first.

Kevin Phillips and Matt Towe were on the scoresheet for the Flames, but it was not enough as Bison took the match 5-2.

And it was another goal-fest on Sunday, as this time Bison beat Flames 6-4.

Ryan Sutton scored twice for the Herd, as well as solo efforts from Pitchley, Joe Rand, Karpov and Connolly.

Bison have one more pre-season fixture left to play, as they take on Lightning for a second time this evening.

The first games of the English Ice Hockey Premier League season get underway this weekend, as Bison again face Flames at home on Saturday before playing Peterborough Phantoms on Sunday.

Sport Bites

FA Vase joy

FOOTBALL: Hartley Wintney, Whitchurch United and Tadley Calleva all progressed to the second qualifying round of the FA Vase on Saturday.

Calleva picked up the biggest win of the three as they beat Woodley United 6-0.

Whitchurch triumphed 3-0 against Hamworthy United, while Wintney won 3-2 versus Longlevens AFC.

The second round fixtures will be played on October 3, where Calleva travel to Chertsey Town, Wintney host Milton United, and Whitchurch are at home to Bournemouth Poppies.

Ladies progress

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies progressed to the next round of the FA Women's Cup after beating Cheltenham Civil Service 3-1 on Sunday.

Charlie Fry, Josette Pearmine and Katie Randell were on the scoresheet as Town earned a comfortable victory.

They play their first Southern Region Women's Football League match of the season this Sunday, where they take on Oxford-based Mansfield Road Ladies at home.

Hamilton fourth

MOTORSPORT: Basingstoke racing driver Archie Hamilton picked up a fourth place result at the Six Hours of the Nurburgring in Germany following a late call-up to the event.

Hamilton (pictured) came home fourth in the LMP2 category in his first drive in the category for two years as he took part in the World Endurance Championship on August 30.

"It was a tough weekend getting into an LMP2 car for the first time in two seasons and the first time in any race car in five months," said Hamilton.

He added: "The team was pleased with my pace, consistency and performance and it was great to be able to get up to speed so quickly."

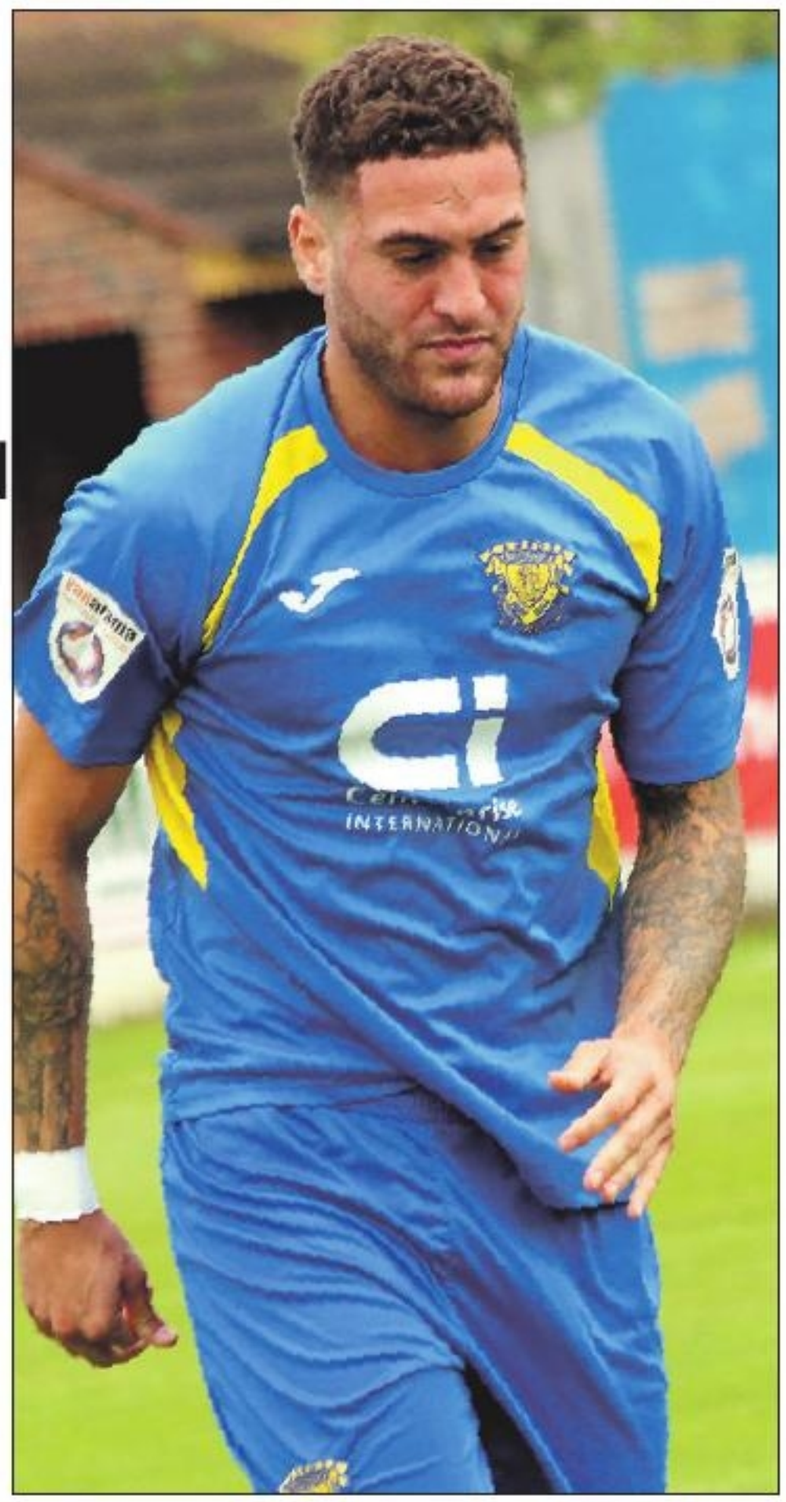
TOWN HIT LATE GOAL FOR POINT AT HEMEL



• Liam Enver-Marum's penalty earned Basingstoke a point against Hemel Hempstead

BASINGSTOKE Town are still searching for their first win after salvaging a point in Saturday's 2-2 draw away to Hemel Hempstead.

By Adam Flinn
adam@observergroup.co.uk

The visitors had looked set for defeat when Hemel scored from the penalty spot in the 85th minute.

But, three minutes later, the Dragons were awarded a spot-kick of their own and Liam Enver-Marum converted to level and earn his side a point.

Town had made a strong start, but it was Hemel who opened the scoring as Matty Harriott fired in an unstoppable volley from close range after just eight minutes.

Sam Akinde almost gave Basingstoke an equaliser soon after as he took the ball around keeper Jamie Butler, but Enver-Marum was unable to reach the loose ball in time.

The hosts nearly doubled their lead on 25 minutes as Jamie Slabber delivered a promising cross to Oliver Hawkins, but it was a bit too high and the header went harmlessly over the bar.

Ten minutes later, Town were level as Louie Soares' free kick was headed home by Chris Flood at the far post, leaving the score 1-1 at the half-time break.

Basingstoke continued to push forward in the second half without any success, as well as fending off a few Hemel chances.

The turning point came in the 85th minute when the referee adjudged that James Harper had brought down Wilfried Gnahore and gave a penalty, which Jamie Slabber converted.

But Town did not find themselves behind for long, with their own penalty coming after it was ruled that Terrell Forbes had a hand on Jay Gasson, and Enver-Marum fired his spot kick into the corner of the net.

With neither side able to pinch a winner in the final moments, they had to be content with a point each.

However, it was not enough to lift Basingstoke out of the National League South relegation zone, as their four-point tally keeps them in 20th place.

Town return to action at home to Eastbourne Borough on Saturday, before facing St Albans City away on Monday.
